

THE 2019 HARVEST AT FULL BLAST

We have been preparing ourselves for this harvest by traveling the more than 900 km that separate our vineyards from South to North. In different latitudes, near the Andes mountain range or in the cold Pacific Ocean. It's a tiring job, a lot of driving and walking, to exchange opinions with our viticulturists, and most importantly: try the grapes and with that sweet flavor full of aromas and tastes, let the mind begin (once again), to mold how our 2019 vintage wines will be. Technically what we are seeing is a decrease in the number of kilos, most likely due to the increase in kilos we saw in the 2018 vintage. This will result I think in more diverse range of flavors and aromas and higher concentration of the fruit.

VIÑA SUTIL IN PROWEIN 2019

Dusseldorf, Alemania

Between the 17th and 19th of March Viña Sutil was present in ProWein, one of the most important wine trade shows that takes place every year in Dusseldorf, Germany.

This time, the winery team was headed by Juan Sutil and his sons Nicolás and Francisco. Together with Sebastian Alvia, Commercial Director, they met with clients and industry gatekeepers who visited our booth. It was an important instance that allowed us to talk about the development of the brands Sutil, La Playa and Chono in the different international markets as well as tasting the latest vintages of the wines. Three intense days and many meetings, that promise us a bright future in international markets.
